A. F. Bombers Attack Nazi-Held French Coast As Berlin Admits University Town of Heidelberg Damaged; Luftwaffe Pounds Glasgow, Belfast and Liverpool in Widespread Night Forays; Axis Powers Seize Greek Islands

ATTEMPT TO BREAK TOBRUK SIEGE FAILS

By the Associated Press
Germany's Rhineland felt the force of a "made-in-England" blitz today—a series of raids in which RAF bombers reported attacks on Frankfurt-Am-Main, Mannheim and other Rhine industrial centers as well as on the Nazi-held French coast.

A Berlin announcement said the RAF bombed the ancient German university town of Heidelberg and hit academic and hospital buildings.

The British, omitting mention of any assault on Heidelberg, said a "great weight" of high explosive bombs was rained on Mannheim. While other RAF raiders attacked the channel ports of Boulogne and Cherbourg.

The Germans said RAF bombs were directed at unspecified "well-known" resorts in southern and southwestern Germany, and declared that military objectives were being hit.

Hitler's Luftwaffe, countered with equally violent raids on the British Isles, striking again at Belfast, the capital of northern Ireland, where 79 deaths were reported in Sunday's raid, and ferociously attacking Scotland's vast Clyde river shipyards which stretch from Glasgow to the sea. Liverpool's Merseyside docks were raked by bombs for the fifth consecutive night.

British statement acknowledged that the Germans, hitting in "large-scale" operations, inflicted "much damage" and that the toll of dead and wounded was expected to be high. A single direct hit on a Belfast shelter claimed 12 lives, it was reported.

With daylight, a formation of Messerschmitts flashed across the channel, scattered machine-gun bullets in the streets of Dover and stabbed at the town's harbor, sending three of the big "sky trawlers" down in flames.

A flight of Spitfires spent after the Germans as they raced back across the channel.

As an aftermath of the battle of the Balkans, the Axis powers began taking over Greece's islands. Hitler's high command announced occupation of Lesbos and Chios islands in the Aegean Sea, only 10 miles from the Turkish mainland.

Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, May 5.—(Delayed)—(P)—Haile Selassie, Emperor of Ethiopia and Lion of Judah, entered his capital today after five years of exile while Ethiopia was in Italian hands.

Canea, Crete, May 6.—(P)—The Greek government, recapitulating the facts of the last days of the German drive through Greece, said today that all its auxiliary vessels—more than 30—had been "savagely bombed and machine-gunned, sinking with the crews." These ships included mine layers, patrol and escort vessels. Greece's submarines were said to have reached Alexandria, Egypt, where they joined the British fleet.

Pittsburgh, May 6.—(P)—One workman was killed and 12 others were slightly injured last night when the lining of the Eliza blast furnace at the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation's Second avenue plant collapsed and fell to the furnace floor.

Cairo, Egypt, May 6.—(P)—Fighting in Iraq has spread, with British planes bombing Iraqi military positions at Diwaniya and motor transport at Falluja, the RAF Middle East command announced today.

Cairo, Egypt, May 6.—(P)—Bengasi harbor and the airbase at Benina, as well as German-Italian landing fields at Barca, Derna and Gazala, all in Libya, were the targets of a "very heavy bombing attack" by the RAF, it was announced today. At least five Axis planes, including one or more large troop carriers, were destroyed at Benina, said the RAF communique. The Libyan offensive was staged night before last.

Consistent Administration Supporter Declares in Prepared Speech, That "It is Time for this Country to Get Tough"

MUST STIFLE THREATS

Washington, May 6.—(P)—Declaring that "it is time for the United States to get tough," Senator Pepper (D-Pa.) urged today that this nation, in cooperation with Great Britain, occupy Greenland, Iceland, the Azores, the Cape Verde and Canary Islands, Singapore and Dakar, West Africa.

Pepper's "get tough" program, also carried these recommendations: That the U. S. and British Navies "join openly" in the Pacific "to shut up the Japanese fleet in its lair," and

That long-range bombers, manned by American pilots enlisting voluntarily, be made available to China.

"A few bombers down by American pilots wouldn't leave enough of Tokyo to build a bonfire," he commented.

The Florida senator, consistent administration supporter and early advocate of aid to Britain, said in a speech prepared for Senate delivery:

"We must stifle threats against us near their source. We have allowed waited too long. If we continue a pussy-footing policy the foe will not fear us and our friends will not respect us."

Speaking of lease-lend cargoes, Pepper said that the country "should resolve that no power will keep us from getting the goods to Britain, and getting them there now."

It is up to military and naval experts, he added, to decide on the best method for guaranteeing safe delivery.

As far as Hitler is concerned, Pepper said that the United States should react on him as it had to the Barbary coast pirates in the early years of the last century, and to the gangsters of the Dillinger days.

Inmate Acquitted of Matricide Fugitive

Scranton, May 6.—(P)—A 38-year-old man who hatched his mother to death with a hatchet in Philadelphia 17 years ago and won acquittal on an insanity plea has escaped from the Fairview hospital for the criminal insane.

Superintendent Dr. C. A. Zeller said the inmate, Vernon Ward, walked away from the hospital grounds Sunday. He described the man as harmless.

Sent to Fairview as insane after the killing, Ward was declared cured and discharged in 1930. Brought to trial, he was freed when a jury found he had been insane at the time the crime was committed.

Judge Otto R. Heilgman ordered a further examination and committed Ward to the hospital indefinitely on a report of doctors that the man "is one of those individuals who is potentially insane in that if he should be given his liberty and drink alcohol he would again become insane."

Strike of Members of Auto Workers' Union Closes Three Plants of Corporation in Detroit Stopping Work on Tools For Defense Purposes

WAGE BOOSTS ASKED

By the Associated Press
A strike by members of the United Automobile Workers (CIO) union this morning closed three plants of the Ex-Cell-O Corporation at Detroit and stopped work on tools ordered for defense purposes.

Federal Conciliator L. F. Rye said that more than 95 per cent of the firm's tool-making production was devoted to defense contracts. He estimated that the work stoppage affected 3,000 men.

The union demanded a 10-cent hourly wage increase. A tentative settlement, reported to include a five-cent wage increase, was approved by the union president, but the members rejected it and ordered the strike last night.

The Defense Mediation Board today renewed its efforts to avert threatened strikes against General Motors Corporation and the Minneapolis-Honeywell Company, while Labor Department conciliators attempted to settle a strike involving 1,400 bus drivers and other employees of the Pennsylvania Greyhound Lines.

KIDNAP CHARGE IS MADE AFTER CHILD'S RETURN

New York, May 6.—(P)—The disappearance of a six-year-old Bronx schoolgirl that had police of three states on the alert ended today with the return of the victim, the lodging of a kidnapping charge against a young WPA laborer and the mother's plea not to punish him.

School-bound Rachel Nessim disappeared yesterday morning. Her mother, Mrs. Rachel Nessim, shortly afterward showed police a three-page letter from Tony Russo, 23, a neighbor, who was attached to the child, in which he said he was taking Rachel to his uncle's home in Detroit.

The story of the flight, as Tony told it to Assistant District Attorney Andrew C. McCarthy when booked for kidnapping, was that Russo—who acted as older brother to Rachel since her father's death six years ago—was seeking a better home for her.

Declaring in the letter that he would return the little girl when Mrs. Nessim showed she was "the proper kind of mother," Tony took Rachel to Trenton, N. J., by train, intending, he said, to catch a bus there for Detroit.

Chief Executive Instructs Secretary of War Stimson to Get the Job Done "With All Possible Speed," and Gives Cabinet Official a Secret Production Figure as Desired Mark to be Attained

500 MONTH BELIEVED QUANTITY ESTIMATED

Washington, May 6.—(P)—President Roosevelt called in top fight men from his cabinet and the army and navy today to discuss stepping up the production of big bombers.

He also designated Major General James H. Burns as an assistant to Harry L. Hopkins to handle much of the detailed work under the British aid bill and in another step directed the secretary of agriculture to set up a special division to handle work previously assigned to the agricultural division of the defense commission.

Mr. Roosevelt, who asked Secretary Stimson last night to obtain a "substantial increase in heavy bomber production," followed that up today by calling in to conference along with Stimson's Secretaries Hull, Morgenthau and Knox; General George C. Marshall, chief of the army; Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations; Harry Hopkins, supervisor of the lease-lend program; and Major General H. H. Arnold, chief of the army air corps.

The White House said a major purpose would be to consider the needs as outlined by Mr. Roosevelt in his letter to Stimson, of increasing the output of big bombers "with all possible speed." It was reported his goal is 500 heavy bombers a month.

Authoritative reports were that Mr. Roosevelt had called for 500 long-range, four motors bombers a month—an output at least ten times greater than at present. Heavy bombers in such quantities, it was said, would be an offensive weapon which the Axis could not meet.

The president made his call for a "substantial" production increase last night in a letter to Stimson, directing him to "take whatever action is needed" to attain the production rate set in an accompanying private memorandum.

Stimson's roll-out-the-bombers assignment would probably require more than a year, it was said, before the 500-a-month production peak could be reached. However, it was noted that steps to expand (Turn To Page Nine)

Vice President Urges Production Units to Strive to Offset Losses Sustained Since Solicitation Previous Year

Johnstown, May 6.—(P)—Fire hazards as a result of the extended drought have reached an alarming stage, district officials of the Department of Forests and Waters reported today.

During the past 24 hours thousands of acres of brush, timber and grass lands have been burned out. The largest blaze was reported around McGee's Mill in Indiana and Clearfield counties where District Forester Charles E. Zerby said 2,500 acres were involved. It covered a four mile front at one time.

Included in that large area was a 160-acre game refuge. Smaller fires were reported near Sandy Ridge in Centre county, Fall's Creek and West of Madeira in Clearfield county, several in Somerset county including one near Central City that burned over 400 acres and another on the Westmoreland-Somerset county line on Sharfer Run.

One sawmill owner at Acme, Westmoreland county, was charged with "setting a fire carelessly" by a state motor policeman. That fire ranged over 800 acres, including 400 of state game refuge. It was brought under control Sunday.

Financial Program to be Advertised for Adoption At Adjourned Session to Be Held Monday Afternoon, May 26

OFFICERS RE-ELECTED

Warren board of school directors held the May meeting last night at which time the finance committee submitted the budget proposed for the fiscal year beginning July 7 and other items of importance were disposed of.

The tentative amount of the budget is $346,115.82 and levies a tax of 21 mills of assessed valuation and a per capita tax of four dollars. Authorization was given that it be advertised for adoption at an adjourned meeting to be held Monday, May 26, at 4:30 o'clock.

H. C. Mohr was re-elected secretary of the board for a four-year term and R. W. Mackay was re-elected treasurer for a one-year term.

A contract was entered into with Maynard Johnson for painting the exterior wood and metal work of the high school, his bid of $620 being low. It was pointed out that out of seven or eight bids sent out only three replies were received for this contract.

A list of janitors now employed were re-employed on a month-to-month basis at their respective wage rates. These janitors are George Baxter, Milton Samuelson, William Fredericks, John Westland, Roy Ryberg, Charles Meyers, Harry Lord, Harry Nicholson, Carl Munch, Charles Berry, Harry Thompson, Dollie Allen and Carl Danielson.

Competitive bids having been received, it was recommended that a list of janitors for the construction of a ticket booth at Russell Field be purchased from the Warren Planning Mill. That firm's bid was $74.64.

Penn State College was granted use of four rooms for a period of ten weeks at a rental of $20 per week. These rooms, to be used five days each week, are for courses in the essentials in engineering for boys graduating in June. Along with this it was reported that $128 has been received from Penn State College for materials in connection with the defense training program now in operation.

The official calendar for the school year 1941-42 was approved as submitted, with a provision that should Labor Day be officially fixed as September 8, it will be modified so that school starts one week later and conclude one week later.

Proper officers were authorized to pay the state tax on bonds held by private individuals. The amount of the tax on these bonds is $1,740.

Machine Exports to Russia Are Banned

Washington, May 6.—(P)—The United States, it was learned authoritatively today, has halted all exports to Russia of machinery or equipment which can be utilized in defense production.

The policy was adopted, it was said, despite strenuous Soviet diplomatic efforts to obtain the necessary export permits and despite the fact that some of the machines involved had been ordered and paid for by the Russians months ago.

During the past several months Russia has been successful in securing licenses for the export of machine tools and some other manufacturing equipment previously ordered here. This was the result of negotiations between Constantin Oumansky, the Soviet ambassador, and Undersecretary of State Welles.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden Tells House of Commons That the Sooner United States War Materials Reach Battlefields of Asia, Africa and Europe, the Sooner Hostilities Will Cease; Expresses Faith in Turkey

GOVERNMENT CRITICS ATTACK LONG REVIEW

London, May 6.—(P)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the House of Commons today that the sooner United States war materials reach the battlefields of Asia, Africa and Europe the sooner the war will end.

He expressed faith that Turkey would stand by Britain and he told Arab peoples, including the Iraqis to beware of an Axis victory.

During his review, which opened the government's statement in full dress debate on the conduct of the war, a heckling member interrupted Eden's reference to United States aid with: "Let us do a bit ourselves."

Eden promptly retorted he was "presupposing maximum effort of ourselves and the United States of America."

Government critics, among them Leslie Hore-Belisha, rose to attack Eden's long view.

"Now that events are going against us, I trust temporarily," Hore-Belisha said, "there is a tendency to minimize their importance, to distinguish them from what is happening in the Atlantic."

Laborite Lewis Smith, speaking from the front opposition bench, warned that in the battle of Suez Britain had a smaller margin of time than in the battle of the Atlantic.

"In the Mediterranean," he said, "it is a race between Hitler's immediate advantage and our power to build up equipment to hold him until American supplies swing in our favor some months hence."

The Laborite speaker wanted to know why measures were not taken to keep German panzer divisions out of Libya and asked if the government was satisfied that the French government at Vichy is maintaining strict neutrality.

Eden, retracing ground covered last week by Prime Minister Churchill, declared Greece was informed beforehand just how much aid could be expected from Britain.

Militant Foe of Social Security at York Protests Against Equipment "Confiscation"

York, May 6.—(P)—Fred Perkins, militant foe of the federal social security tax, protested today against a law that he described as the "confiscation" of his office equipment which will be sold tomorrow at public auction for non-payment of the taxes.

The 35-year-old battery manufacturer who was jailed eight years ago on a charge of violating minimum wage provisions of the old NIRA, wrote in a letter to the press:

"You put me in jail for 18 days for violating a law that was provided for by the constitution. I now have something to say to you. It just seems that you have condemned nearly everything that was the dream of the founding fathers. Small business men are fast disappearing. Your internal aggression is thinning them out. An instance of such aggression is your recent seizure of my office equipment and business records which you will sell at public auction on May 7. You say that you are doing this in order to obtain from me certain monies that you propose to turn over to private individuals. You call it a social security tax. I call it just plain confiscation. In no way whatever am I to share in its benefits. In no way whatever is it to be used for a public purpose."

Washington, May 6.—(P)—President Roosevelt called in top flight men from his cabinet and the army and navy today to discuss stepping up the production of big bombers.

He also designated Major General James H. Burns as an assistant to Harry L. Hopkins to handle much of the detailed work under the British aid bill and in another step directed the secretary of agriculture to set up a special division to handle work previously assigned to the agricultural division of the defense commission.

Mr. Roosevelt, who asked Secretary Stimson last night to obtain a "substantial increase in heavy bomber production," followed that up today by calling in to conference along with Stimson's Secretaries Hull, Morgenthau and Knox; General George C. Marshall, chief of the army; Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations; Harry Hopkins, supervisor of the lease-lend program; and Major General H. Arnold, chief of the army air corps.

The White House said a major purpose would be to consider the needs as outlined by Mr. Roosevelt in his letter to Stimson, of increasing the output of big bombers "with all possible speed." It was reported his goal is 500 heavy bombers a month.

Authoritative reports were that Mr. Roosevelt had called for 500 long-range, four motors bombers a month—an output at least ten times greater than at present. Heavy bombers in such quantities, airman said, would be an offensive weapon which the Axis could not meet.

The president made his call for a "substantial" production increase last night in a letter to Stimson, directing him to "take whatever action is needed" to attain the production rate set in an accompanying private memorandum.

Stimson's roll-out-the-bombers assignment would probably require more than a year, airman said, before the 500-a-month production peak could be reached. However, it was noted that steps to expand

Machine Exports to Russia Are Banned

Washington, May 6.—(P)—The United States, it was learned authoritatively today, has halted all exports to Russia of machinery or equipment which can be utilized in defense production.

The policy was adopted, it was said, despite strenuous Soviet diplomatic efforts to obtain the necessary export permits and despite the fact that some of the machines involved had been ordered and paid for by the Russians months ago.

During the past several months Russia has been successful in securing licenses for the export of machine tools and some other manufacturing equipment previously ordered here. This was the result of negotiations between Constantin Oumansky, the Soviet ambassador, and Undersecretary of State Welles.

One sawmill owner at Acme, Westmoreland county, was charged with "setting a fire carelessly" by a state motor policeman. That fire ranged over 800 acres, including 400 of state game refuge. It was brought under control Sunday.

OFFICERS RE-ELECTED

Warren board of school directors held the May meeting last night at which time the finance committee submitted the budget proposed for the fiscal year beginning July 7 and other items of importance were disposed of.

The tentative amount of the budget is $346,115.82 and levies a tax of 21 mills of assessed valuation and a per capita tax of four dollars. Authorization was given that it be advertised for adoption at an adjourned meeting to be held Monday, May 26, at 4:30 o'clock.

H. M. Mohr was re-elected secretary of the board for a four-year term and R. W. Mackay was re-elected treasurer for a one-year term.

A contract was entered into with Maynard Johnson for painting the exterior wood and metal work of the high school, his bid of $620 being low. It was pointed out that out of seven or eight bids sent out only three replies were received for this contract.

A list of janitors now employed were re-employed on a month to month basis at their respective wage rates. These janitors are George Baxter, Milton Samelson, William Frederick, John West, Roy Ryberg, Charles Meyers, Harry Lord, Harry Nicholson, Carl Munch, Charles Berry, Harry Thompson, Dollie Allen and Carl Danielson.

FIRE HAZARDS IN THE STATE ARE ALARMING

Johnstown, May 6.—(P)—Fire hazards as a result of the extended drought have reached an alarming stage, district officials of the Department of Forests and Waters reported today.

During the past 24 hours thousands of acres of brush, timber and grass lands have been burned out. The largest blaze was reported around McGee's Mill in Indiana and Clearfield counties where District Forester Charles E. Zerby said 2,500 acres were involved. It covered a four mile front at one time.

Included in that large area was a 160-acre game refuge.

Smaller fires were reported near Sandy Ridge in Centre county, Fall's Creek and West of Madeira in Clearfield county, several in Somerset county including one near Central City that burned over 400 acres and another on the Westmoreland-Somerset county line on Shaffer Run.

One sawmill owner at Acme, Westmoreland county, was charged with "setting a fire carelessly" by a state motor policeman. That fire ranged over 800 acres, including 400 of state game refuge. It was brought under control Sunday.

The Junonville Inn, well known historic site and summer resort was threatened by a fire which finally was brought under control by 125 Fayette county volunteers. The flames destroyed one old building.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden Tells House of Commons That the Sooner United States War Materials Reach Battlefields of Asia, Africa and Europe, the Sooner Hostilities Will Cease; Expresses Faith in Turkey

GOVERNMENT CRITICS ATTACK LONG REVIEW

London, May 6.—(P)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the House of Commons today that the sooner United States war materials reach the battlefields of Asia, Africa and Europe the sooner the war will end.

He expressed faith that Turkey would stand by Britain and he told Arab peoples, including the Iraqis, to beware of an Axis victory.

During his review, which opened the government's statement in full dress debate on the conduct of the war, a heckling member interrupted Eden's reference to United States aid with: "Let us do a bit ourselves."

Eden promptly retorted he was "pre-supposing maximum effort of ourselves and the United States of America."

Government critics, among them Leslie Hore-Belisha, rose to attack Eden's long review.

"Now that events are going against us, I trust temporarily," Hore-Belisha said, "there is a tendency to minimize their importance, to distinguish them from what is happening in the Atlantic."

Laborite Lees Smith, speaking from the front opposition bench, warned that in the battle of Suez Britain had a smaller margin of time than in the battle of the Atlantic.

"In the Mediterranean," he said, "it is a race between Hitler's immediate advantage and our power to build up equipment to hold him until American supplies swing in our favor some months hence."

The Laborite speaker wanted to know why measures were not taken to keep German panzer divisions out of Libya and asked if the government was satisfied that the French government at Vichy is maintaining strict neutrality.

Eden, retreating ground covered last week by Prime Minister Churchill, declared Greece was informed beforehand just how much aid could be expected from Britain.

Telling of diplomatic efforts in the Middle East preceding the Nazi invasion of Greece and Yugoslavia, Eden said he was impressed by the loyal friendship and determination of the Turks to "stand

WASHINGTON COUNTY SCHOOL IS DESTROYED

Wet Middletown, May 6.—(P)—Fire destroyed the 43-year-old two-room, one-story frame school building in this Washington county community yesterday, two days before the end of the school term.

Sixty pupils and two teachers, warned by a motorist who saw the flames shooting from the roof, fled to safety. Desks, supplies and other equipment were removed by volunteers.

School officials announced that classes would be held today and tomorrow in the community building.

JIMMY AT RANGOON

Rangoon, Burma, May 5.—(Delayed)—(P)—Capt. James Roosevelt, son of the president, arrived today en route to Cairo, Egypt, after a visit to the Chinese capital at Chungking.

Militant Foe of Social Security at York Protests Against Equipment "Confiscation"

York, May 6.—(P)—Fred Perkins, militant foe of the federal social security tax, protested to President Roosevelt today against what he described as the "confiscation" of his office equipment which will be sold tomorrow at public auction for non-payment of the taxes.

The 61-year-old battery manufacturer, who was jailed eight years ago on a charge of violating minimum wages provisions of the old NIRA, wrote in a letter to the president:

"You put me in jail for 18 days for violating a law that was proven unconstitutional. I now have something to say to you. It just seems that you have condemned nearly everything that was the dream of the founding fathers. Small business men are fast disappearing. Your internal aggression is thinning them out. An instance of such aggression is your recent seizure of my office equipment and business records which you will sell at public auction on May 7. You say that you are doing this in order to obtain from me certain monies that you propose to turn over to private individuals. You call it a social security tax. I call it just plain confiscation. In no way whatever am I to share in its benefits. In no way whatever is it to be used for a public purpose."

GASOLINE MUST NOT BE STORED IN ANY QUANTITY

Fire Chief Douglas Kropf today issued a warning to persons who are attempting to take advantage of fluctuating retail gasoline prices and who have been buying gasoline in quantities for storage.

"The storing of gasoline in more than one gallon in most and five gallons in some instances is specifically prohibited by law," the chief said. "It has been called to the department's attention that some motorists have purchased gasoline in drums and are storing it in drums in their garages, basements, etc. This constitutes a fire hazard and offenders are liable to prosecution."

"Gasoline in large quantities is to be stored in underground tanks, approved and inspected by authorities, and small quantities, such as a gallon, must be kept in a safety can."

Chief Kropf also called attention to rubbish fires and the practice of dumping rubbish indiscriminately so as to cause a hazard. These offenders are also liable to arrest and heavy fines.

What Makes a Community Attractive?

Why is one town more attractive than its neighbors? Well, one might say, because of its location. . . Or its wide, shady streets. . . Or, perhaps, because of its modern buildings. But one reason invariably given is: "The lovely homes!"

Your house and land need not be imposing or costly to help beautify the community. . . Even the simplest dwelling acquires unsuspected charm when surrounded by a neat, colorful yard. . . And thus joins other cheerful homes as a compliment for the community.

Worth remembering: Grass and flowers receive nourishment in liquid form only. For this reason it is essential that your yard be watered plentifully to be at its best.

MINISTERS SET DATE OF PICNIC AT BEMUS POINT

Major B. E. Flinn conducted devotions which opened the semi-monthly meeting of the Warren County Ministerial Association, held at the Y. M. C. A. Monday morning with Dr. Harold C. Warren, president, in charge. Rev. Bertil Edquist, new pastor of St. Paul's church, was introduced.

Rev. H. B. Ward, reporting for the picnic committee, called upon Rev. Emerson Jones for presentation of places and Bemus Point, N. Y., was chosen for the event, to take place on May 19.

Rev. E. P. Wroth outlined plans of the committee on Memorial Day services, including the open air service on Sunday evening, May 25, at 6:30 o'clock at the American Legion Home.

Rev. J. A. Davison told of findings of the committee on daily vacation bible schools, many churches already having schools in prospect for this season. It was suggested that such schools be made available to every community, with a three-week school from June 9 to 27 or a two-week school in that same period; that the committee set up a library or act as clearing house for school literature and that it aid in securing qualified teachers for those communities having no schools in the past.

Week-day religious education plans were reported on by Mr. Wroth, who stated the committee is working on the problem and arranging with public school officials for cooperation next year.

The day's program opened with devotions by Rev. W. H. Warner and the paper on "Outstanding Events and Personalities of Christian History from 1900 to the Present" was given by Rev. Ward.

He said among outstanding events were the World War of 1914-1918 and development of the peace movement, going back to the conferences of 1890 and 1899, organization of the League of Nations, the Locarno conference, Geneva disarmament conference, the Briand-Kellogg pact. Increased facilities of transportation, he said, were responsible for many of the social changes, together with shorter working hours and more leisure time, and the development of commercialized amusements.

Rev. Ward told, also, of the influence of the overthrow of czarism in Russia, the Spanish revolution and development of totalitarianism in Germany and Italy, and touched briefly upon the present European conflict. He spoke of the increased influence of women through woman suffrage, of the prohibition period from 1919 to 1933, and of the increased interest in Christian education being developed through daily vacation bible schools, week-day religious education, deepening of interest in the curriculum material for Sunday church schools.

Addition of material for Bible study through modern archaeological research and the shift in religious thought from preaching services to greater emphasis on worship programs were touched upon. He told of the Oxford Group movement and of the Ashran work in India; of the development of cooperation among churches, seen through the organization of the World Council of Churches and increased interest in the Federal Council of Churches; of the importance of the Lausanne conference in 1927, the Edinburgh conference in 1937, the Conference on Christian Life and Work the same year and the World Youth Conference in Amsterdam, Holland, in 1928.

Among leaders stressed were Bishop Kagawa in Japan, Karl Barr, Albert Sweitzer and Ambedkar in India.

America's Card Authority

This was one of the most difficult hands in the Olympic series. Of course, the declarer has no problem at all if the defense does not force him to ruff a heart.

After losing two heart tricks and ruffing the third, declarer takes a round of trumps and discovers the bad break. His first move must be to try to drop the queen of diamonds doubleton, so he cashes the ace and king of diamonds.

When this play does not work, declarer must then cash the ace and king of clubs, discarding a heart from dummy. The three of clubs is then ruffed, establishing a trump trick for East. Now a diamond is led in the hope that East's trumps can be picked up by a spade.

West is forced to win the diamond and finds himself end-played. Whatever he leads will be ruffed by declarer with the nine of spades. If East over-ruffs with the ten, South will capture it and then ruff the fourth diamond with the eight of spades. If East refuses to cover the nine of spades, dummy simply discards the diamond and lays down the top trumps.

WOMEN VS. MEN

Women outnumber men in most countries of the western world. In France, for every 1000 men, there are 1071 women; in 1088 in Britain; 1058 in Germany; and 1103 in Russia. In the United States, there are only 976 women for every 1000 men.

More than 160 American firms are building new plants under the defense program.

Baker and children of Irvington, they will soon move to Westfield where Mr. Baker has employment in the G. E. shops.

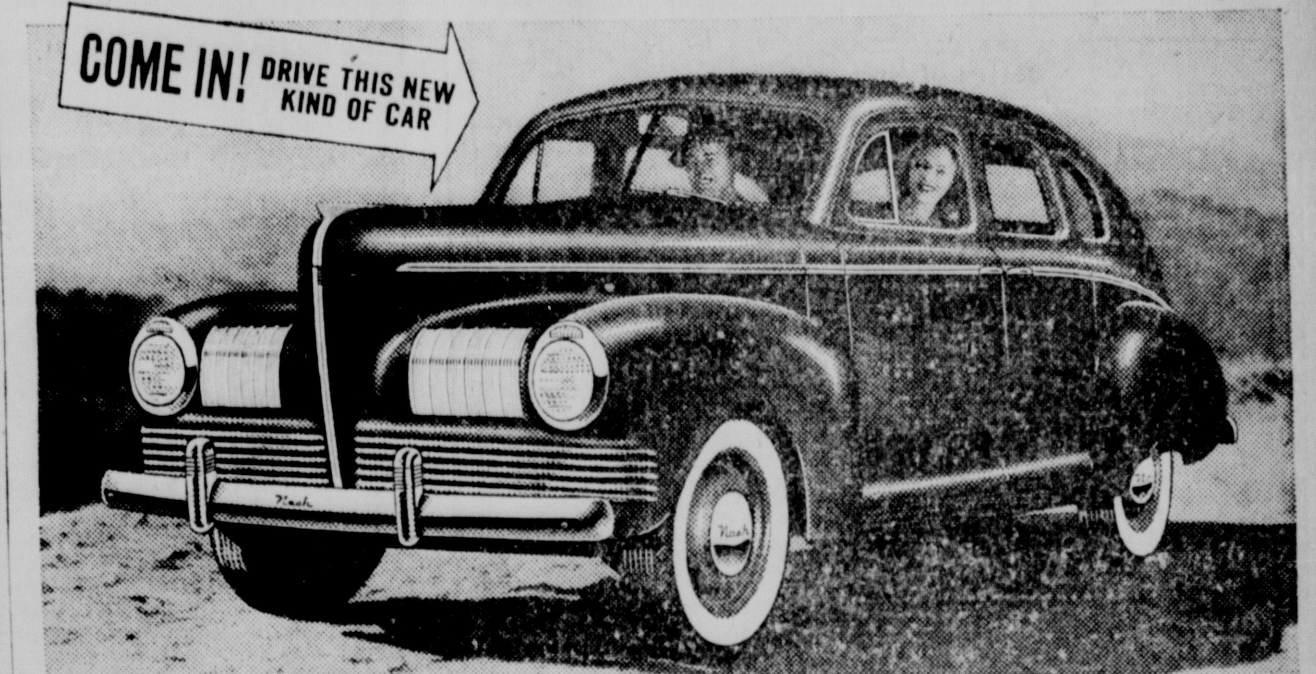

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Colburn of Westfield were callers of their uncle F. Woodin, and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Jensen and son of Pittsburgh were over night guests at the F. Woodin home. They were on their way home from Geneva, N. Y., where they had been to see their son.

Miss Edith Hawkins and Mrs. Ethel Bond will spend the week-end at their home here with their mother Mrs. Ellen Hawkins.

H. J. Scholton was a caller at his home here on Wednesday.

Mrs. Willie Burch of Spring Creek has been a recent guest of her brother Mr. Kenneth Martin.

Pennsylvania State Employment office.

In his proclamation declaring the week beginning May 4 as National Employment Week, President Roosevelt stated that he was sure many of these older workers had the skill and training needed during this time of national preparation.

Attention is called to the fact that among the "over-40" group are many World War veterans, men who now average 48 years of age. In the words of the president's proclamation, these men have a special appeal to our national responsibility, particularly during this time of preparedness. It is further explained that in the local State Employment office there is a Veterans' Placement representative, whose special responsibility is to promote opportunities for veterans. It is urged that employers cooperate in providing jobs for these men.

Not only have men and women out of work registered in the Warren office, but many persons who are not using their highest skills in their present jobs have reported there to advise of their particular qualifications. In some cases their skills have become "rusty" after years in other jobs. They are referred to refreshers courses, which they may take after regular working hours. When they finish they will be available for jobs in their old trade.

The greatest shortages of skilled workers are found in the aircraft manufacturing, shipbuilding and machine shop fields. Makers of airplanes need sheet metal workers, airplane woodworkers and inspectors. The shipbuilding industry is calling for ship carpenters, loftsmen, boatbuilders, ship fitters, lathe operators, boring mill operators, tool and die designers and general machinists.

ANOTHER BROKEN RECORD

Every American industrial record will probably fall this summer. Records are made to be broken, and this is the time for industrial America to break them all.

Latest record to go is the April record for transit of iron ore from the Lake Superior regions to the lower lakes. In that month this year 6,954,793 gross tons of ore came down in 26 days, close to double the amount transported in any previous month of April. General freight movement through the Sault Ste. Marie locks also broke all records for the period.

All that ore will be steel by midsummer or fall; steel that will help make the United States strong and aid those it has chosen to aid. Faster, every day, we move toward the objectives we have set.

Considering the news from Washington regarding the need for funds to meet the preparedness program, it is encouraging to note that the local school tax levies for the fiscal year will be unchanged.

North Warren's very active and progressive Civic Club has reorganized for the coming year. Our congratulations to Boyd Sanden, the new president, and other officers.

If you think you are getting up early these days, think of the people in Great Britain, where the clocks have been set ahead a second hour.

The oldest inhabitants would have a hard time recalling a spring season with less rain than the one we are experiencing now.

Keeping up with the spelling of names in the war news since the conflict moved into the Near East is more difficult than ever.

The House killed a bill authorizing blackouts in the District of Columbia—probably figuring dark days were bad enough.

Another month and school vacations will be starting.
It just doesn't seem possible.

It's warm enough now to use your vest to patch your pants.

YOUR NATION'S CAPITAL

By Peter Edson
The Times-Mirror Washington Correspondent

THREE 'PORTUGUESE' AIR- LINES—OWNED BY FASCISTS —ONLY TOO READY TO START REGULAR FLIGHTS TO U. S.

Washington, May 6—You could ask for no better example of the kind of international business competition the United States is going to run into after this war is over —if not sooner—than is visible in Portugal today, where three international airlines are waiting for a chance to apply for and begin commercial passenger and express trans-oceanic flights to this country. All three companies are essentially Portuguese, but the catch is that one of the companies, the Iberia line now running service from Lisbon to Barcelona and Cape Verde Islands, has German and Italian backing; another, Aero Portuguesa, now running service from Lisbon to Tangiers, is French; while the third, Servicos Aereos Portugueses, running from Lisbon to Spain, is German.

The background is this:
Pan American Airways, which now runs the clipper service to Lisbon, has exclusive rights with the Portuguese government for the operation of an airline between Portugal and the United States. Kicking around Congress for the past few months has been the postoffice appropriation bill for 1942. The Senate Appropriations Committee, reversing the decision of the House has added $800,000 to this bill as a subsidy to the new American Export Airlines for one flight every two weeks between New York and Lisbon. Pan American now schedules three flights a week over the route and, under this same appropriation bill, would be granted subsidy for a fourth weekly trip.

Much oratory may be expected over these subsidies. Even if the Senate does pass the bill as recommended by the Appropriations Committee it must go back to the House for conference and further arguing. The basic issue at stake is whether the United States government is to subsidize two airlines for international service or stick to just one, the existing Pan American Airways. If the latter is the policy, Pan American would be given full government backing to compete with foreign airlines in the further development of its lines to Europe, Africa, Asia, New Zealand and Central and South America.

The U. S. Department of State comes into this situation in a peculiar manner. As mentioned, Pan American now holds an exclusive agreement with the Portuguese government for operation to Lisbon. The U. S. Civil Aeronautics Board, however, has issued a certificate to American Export Airlines, authorizing it to fly to Lisbon, though before it could operate Pan American would have to surrender its agreement with the Portuguese government, and a new agreement would have to be worked out by the Department of State.
This could be done now only on the basis of granting Portuguese airlines equal and reciprocal rights with the American lines, trip for trip.

YEARS AGO IN WARREN

Interesting Items Taken From the Warren Evening Times

In 1921
The Chamber of Commerce "get-together" meeting at the Outing Club last night was a huge success.
Several hundred men were present to listen to an interesting address by Congressman James T. Beggs, of Sandusky, Ohio. K. M. Andrews, president of the chamber, acted as chairman and Judge E. S.
Lindsey introduced the speaker.

The State Armory on Hickory street will be the scene of another magnificent party soon. "Art" Ostergard and "Monty" McClure having yielded to the requests of their many friends that another dance be given. The dance will be held on Friday, May 13th, and the boys are styling it a "Lucky Dance."

Farm Agent Henry Reist has received from Congressman Harris
J. Bixler a quantity of garden seeds which are being distributed in the county.

Miss Eva Corbin, president and delegate of the Warren County League, leaves this evening for Harrisburg to attend the annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Teachers' League.

Harry Graham and Leonard Larson drove in a new seven passen-

STORIES IN STAMPS

Boy Aviators Get Stamp Recognition

BOY aviators of the world gain a place in philately's gallery in Hungary's new semi-postal above, one of a series of four issued to obtain funds for the Nicholas Horthy national air fund for civilian and military aircraft and for pilot training. The stamp design pictures a Boy Scout with a model airplane.

Building model airplanes has become an important hobby.
Thousands of American boys are enrolled in organizations sponsoring the project. Each member builds an average of 10 planes a year. Races for model planes are held.

Most of the model craft are powered by rubber bands, but many of the larger ships have gasoline motors. Rubber band powered models have flown 40 minutes for a world record.

Junior aviation has practical application in teaching youth basic principles of flight, making him familiar with aviation terms, making him "air conscious." Many boy aviators turn their hobbies into careers as pilots, mechanics, engineers. There are some who are still building model planes, helping U. S. aeronautical research experts solve aviation problems important to defense.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Save when bad weather thwarts him, Ben Bernie likes to fly down to Miami Beach after his broadcast each week. He lives down there and prefers to have sand in his shoes rather than kicking around Manhattan all week.

Lounging all alone in one of the big southbound mail liners the other night, he was thinking of what a fine time he was going to have when the door to the pilot's cabin opened and Dick Merrill stepped out.

"Hello, Ben," cried Dick, "what are you doing way up here?"

"Where are we?" Ben wanted to know.

"We're 7,000 feet above Baltimore and I've got a horse that can't miss."

"A horse," said Bernie, pricking up his ears.

"A beauty, Aerial Bomb. Can't miss," he intoned mournfully,
"and I can't play him."

"I'll make book for you," Bernie told him. Wherefore Dick Merrill, trans-Atlantic flier and noted airlines pilot, placed $10 on Aerial Bomb's nose and ten more to show.

Which, as things turned out, only goes to show that Merrill is an abler pilot than a judge of horseflesh. Aerial Bomb failed to explode, and Bernie collected $20.

THERE are times when silence is a pearl of great worth, but facing a newsreel camera calmly is not one of them. Then "you are supposed to keep talking and so pear unaware that anything is happening. If you can do this, you achieve this nonchalance by repeating the Lord's Prayer. The words come automatically and the phrases then in conversational tones. Study his lip movements the next time you see him on a screen and see if this is not so.

Dayton Stoddard's biography of Sime Silverman, "Lord Broadway," has been revised. Several of Sime's intimates didn't like some of the things in the book, and the publishers are now having the manuscript re-examined. It is interesting to note that Mrs.
Silverman was delighted with the life story of her late and famous husband as it stood. She herself didn't recommend a single change.

ONE of New York's most famous and exclusive mansions stands at 5th avenue and 51st street. It seems incongruous to pass there and find that the curtains have patches on them a foot high. These may easily be seen from the sidewalk. Yet the property is practically priceless.

That was an interesting meeting of secretaries lunching at the Waldorf the other day. The former secretary of Winston Churchill, Phyllis Moir, was guest of honor, and other guests included the secretaries of Wendell Willkie, Herbert Hoover, Mayor LaGuardia and many other prominent people.
Miss Moir is the author of a new book called "I Was Churchill's Private Secretary," published only a few weeks ago.

NATIONAL EMPLOYMENT WEEK

A special effort is being made during National Employment Week to bring to the attention of employers men and women over forty who might be placed in jobs, according to the manager of the Warren office of the Pennsylvania State Employment office.

In his proclamation declaring the week beginning May 4 as National Employment Week, President Roosevelt stated that he was sure many of these older workers had the skill and training needed during this time of national preparation.

Attention is called to the fact that among the "over-40" group are many World War veterans, men who now average 45 years of age. In the words of the president's proclamation, these men have a special appeal to our national responsibility, particularly during this time of preparedness. It is further explained that in the local State Employment office there is a Veterans' Placement representative, whose special responsibility is to promote opportunities for veterans. It is urged that employers cooperate in providing jobs for these men.

Not only have men and women out of work registered in the Warren office, but many persons who are not using their highest skills in their present jobs have reported there to advise of their particular qualifications. In some cases their skills have become "rusty" after years in other jobs. They are referred to refresher courses, which they may take after regular working hours. When they finish they will be available for jobs in their old trade.

The greatest shortages of skilled workers are found in the aircraft manufacturing, shipbuilding and machine shop fields. Makers of airplanes need sheet metal workers, airplane woodworkers and inspectors. The shipbuilding industry is calling for ship carpenters, loftmen, boatbuilders, ship fitters, lathe operators, boring mill operators, tool and die designers and general machinists.

ANOTHER BROKEN RECORD

Every American industrial record will probably fall this summer. Records are made to be broken, and this is the time for industrial America to break them all.

Latest record to go is the April record for transit of iron ore from the Lake Superior regions to the lower lakes. In that month this year 6,954,793 gross tons of ore came down in 26 days, close to double the amount transported in any previous month of April. General freight movement through the Sault Ste. Marie locks also broke all records for the period.

All that ore will be steel by midsummer or fall: steel that will help make the United States strong and aid those it has chosen to aid. Faster, every day, we move toward the objectives we have set.

Considering the news from Washington regarding the need for funds to meet the preparedness program, it is encouraging to note that the local school tax levies for the fiscal year will be unchanged.

THREE 'PORTUGUESE' AIRLINES—OWNED BY FASCISTS—ONLY TOO READY TO START REGULAR FLIGHTS TO U. S.

Washington, May 6.—You could ask for no better example of the kind of international business competition the United States is going to run into after this war is over than the Portuguese airlines visible in Portugal today, where three international airlines are waiting for a chance to apply for and begin commercial passenger and express trans-oceanic flights to this country. All three companies are ostensibly Portuguese, but the catch is that one of the companies, the Iberia line now running service from Lisbon to Barcelona and Cape Verde Islands, has German and Italian backing; another, Aero Portuguesa, now running service from Lisbon to Tangiers, is French; while the third, Servicos Aereos Portugueses, running from Lisbon to Spain, is German.

The background is this: Pan American Airways, which now runs the clipper service to Lisbon, has exclusive rights with the Portuguese government for the operation of an airline between Portugal and the United States. Kicking around Congress for the past few months has been the postoffice appropriation bill for 1942. The Senate Appropriations Committee, reversing the decision of the House has added $500,000 to this bill as a subsidy in the new American Export Airlines for one flight every two weeks between New York and Lisbon. Pan American now schedules three flights a week over the route and, under this same appropriation bill, would be granted a subsidy for a fourth weekly trip. Much oratory may be expected over these subsidies. Even if the Senate does pass the bill as recommended by the Appropriations Committee it must go back to the House for conference and further arguing. The basic issue at stake is whether the United States government is to subsidize two airlines for international service or stick to just one, the existing Pan American Airways. If the latter is the policy, Pan American would be given full government backing to compete with foreign airlines in the further development of its lines to Europe, Africa, Asia, New Zealand and Central and South America.

The U. S. Department of State comes into this situation in a peculiar manner. As mentioned, Pan American now holds an exclusive agreement with the Portuguese government for operation to Lisbon. The U. S. Civil Aeronautics Board, however, has issued a certificate to American Export Airlines, authorizing it to fly to Lisbon, though before it could operate Pan American would have to surrender its agreement with the Portuguese government, and a new agreement would have to be worked out by the Department of State. This could be done now only on the basis of granting Portuguese airlines equal and reciprocal rights with the American lines, trip for trip.

Strange Courtship

MARTIN said, as Eileen had scarcely dared to hope he would, "Here, Caroline, you go along I'll be there in five minutes, tell them." He steadied Eileen. "I'll get this girl home, I guess she was going—she has her wraps on."

Eileen was silent while he got her into another taxi. He asked the address, and she gave it. She leaned forward and slid the window shut, and spoke quickly.

She said, "Listen, I'm Eileen Gardner. I'm the girl you lifted down off the bar at Jerry's, and danced with when you flew to say good-bye to your mother last year, in Denver. You don't remember. I—I've never forgotten. You said you'd listen for me on the radio. You did. When I was singing on that little Weigand chain, out in Piute, you cabled a message from the steamer. You didn't sign your last name. You said I hadn't. I had."

He turned and looked at her with attention, which he had not done before.

"Why—I remember," he said. "Sure. But I'm pretty sure I did sign my name to the cable. And you certainly never did. Hey, I know. I didn't get the original typewritten cablegram; some of the crowd copied it for me—and took it back." He laughed a little.

"Who?"

"Oh, never mind. One of the girls. Well, what do you know? You must come on to the club and have a drink on the strength of our reunion!"

She hadn't time to go on with that. She shoved her coat sleeve back and hurriedly unclasped her charm bracelet. She pushed it into his hand.

"Here. It's your little gold ski. You dropped it at Jerry's. I've always kept it."

He was interested now.

"Well, I'll be darned! Thanks, Eileen. That ski means a lot to me. Can I have it back?"

"Of course—it's yours."

He said again, "Thanks a lot. Look here, you really must come along to have a drink with the crowd after all this and that!"

He leaned forward to pull open the slide and redirect the driver.

She stopped him. She said, "No. Listen, you must listen. You said, just now—'Word of honor'—you thought a girl had as much right to court a man, ask him to marry her and—be taken the right way—as a man with a girl."

"Well, of course I mean it." His voice was light, but he spoke definitely.

"All right. Well, first—I fooled you about the ankle. It was the only way I could get to talk to you. . . . No, you must listen. I care about you. I have ever since that evening last June. That's why I went on the radio. That's why I came to New York. . . . No, you must listen. I haven't any chance to make you care the way I care. I can't go around with you like Caroline, like girls that go the same places you do. By wiles, as she said—"

"What a crazy little thing!" he said. But his voice was gentle.

Someday I'll Find You

YESTERDAY: Foolish though it seemed, even to her, Eileen Gardner took a wild chance and came on to New York mostly because she hoped somehow to find the man she knew only as Martin, whom she had seen only once, and that for a moment. And things have gone badly—until tonight, when Martin and a girl come into the flower shop where Eileen is working, and on a wild chance Eileen pretends to sprain her ankle. The race works.

Strange Courtship

Success

"I'm not crazy. It's just—you're the only man I've ever felt that way about. I can't let you go, never see you again. . . . I'm decent enough," she pleaded. "My people fought in the Revolution; one was a Colonial governor. Dad kept a drugstore out West—he never made much money. But my people have always been fine, educated. I'm quick; you wouldn't be ashamed of me. Look me up, of course you must."

She rapidly gave him her old firm's name, the name of the people she knew in radio. She wrote them down with shaking hands.

"Will you keep your word of honor?" she said. "Will you give me the chance to see you—to make you care enough to marry me, just as if things were reversed—as if you'd seen a girl you wanted and had to go into a different world to tell her so?"

He looked down at the small lovely face and said quietly, "You don't know a thing about me—or do you?"

"No, only that you're everything I always knew I wanted, and I know it." She still spoke with a choked desperate sincerity.

He looked at her a long minute longer. He said again, "Crazy kid, I get you. Honest kid, too. I think. All right. I warn you, you'll probably steer into a lot of masculine instincts that'll block the whole thing. But I'll back cards." He held out his hand for the slip of paper. "So what?"

"So tell me where you're going to be—help me to see you somehow."

"That's up to you. You start with just what I would. My telephone number and house address." He was laughing as he handed them to her, scribbled on his card. "I'll be there round ten tomorrow."

The reaction hit her as she climbed the long stairs to her room. What had she done—what was she up against?

She and Molly had been talking very little of late. She couldn't help that. She poured it all out to Molly. Molly sat up on the couch, a hand bracing her against the cracked stained wall, her broad face more blank at each sentence. When Eileen was done, she only said in a less sharp voice than she had used lately, "What's his name?"

"Martin—wait." She took the card over under the little wall bulb. "Mr. Martin—McClure—Dane."

Molly screamed. "Martin McClure Dane! Well, you did a good job while you were at it! And the girl was Caroline!" She clawed for a tabloid under the bed among a pile of papers, opened it and threw it. "These them?"

Eileen stared down at the man and girl, snapped with balloons at a night-club table.

"Yes." Molly threw herself back and screamed again.

"Holy cats! Jesus, Mary and Joseph! The season's top glamour deb, and the most eligible cafe-society, younger-set millionaire this year! Martin Dane. You little goof! Call him up tomorrow and you'll get the razberry from an ice-voiced secretary. He was just mellow enough to 'yes' you tonight."

Eileen felt cold inside. But she only said, "I met his mother once."

"You did? What did she say to you?"

It came back to Eileen sharply: Proxy saying, "This is Eileen Gardner. . . . We think she'll be one of the ones who will go far. And Miss Willesdon's warm 'Ah, these young things. . . . They're worth all we went through. I hope you do go far, my dear. . . . Eileen giggled hysterically at the memory. "Go far!"

"Here," Molly said. "You're all in. Shut up and go to sleep and forget it."

BUT at ten next day Eileen telephoned.

It was Martin's voice. He was keeping the word of honor. He spoke as if it was nothing at all. "Hello, pirate! How are the methods of capture coming on?"

It was easier that way. You could laugh. She laughed too. She said, "How about a walk in Central Park?"

"Just a bit chilly. See here, we have to postpone this a bit. When I got back to the Nine O'Clock last night the gang had doped out a plan for a week of winter sports up at my place in the Adirondacks. Driving up tomorrow."

Molly was right. . . . But she said obstinately, hanging on to the last, "Take me along."

There was a pause. Her palms were wet and her throat choked. Then Martin's voice: "Well . . . all right. But I can't just drop you in the middle of them. You lie ready?"

She thought fast. "Call me your mother's protégée—you found it out in the taxi."

"Neat as wax. Most apposite. Nine tomorrow, my place, then." He didn't believe in her. . . . Well, why should he? Never mind. Nine tomorrow.

Her last fifty in the bank got her bargain basement sports clothes. The girls would be too rich to know the difference. The scene with Ris brought on an other proposal, as she had been afraid it would. He cried, He said, "Always here is my love . . . always here is a job for you." But the problem which had loomed so big wasn't much, now. Later, likely. . . . No time to think about burned bridges.

Martin's low spacious enormous living room seemed to Eileen's tense eyes filled with shouting, scuffling young giants as she next morning. She saw Martin at the far end, in sweaters and ski trousers.

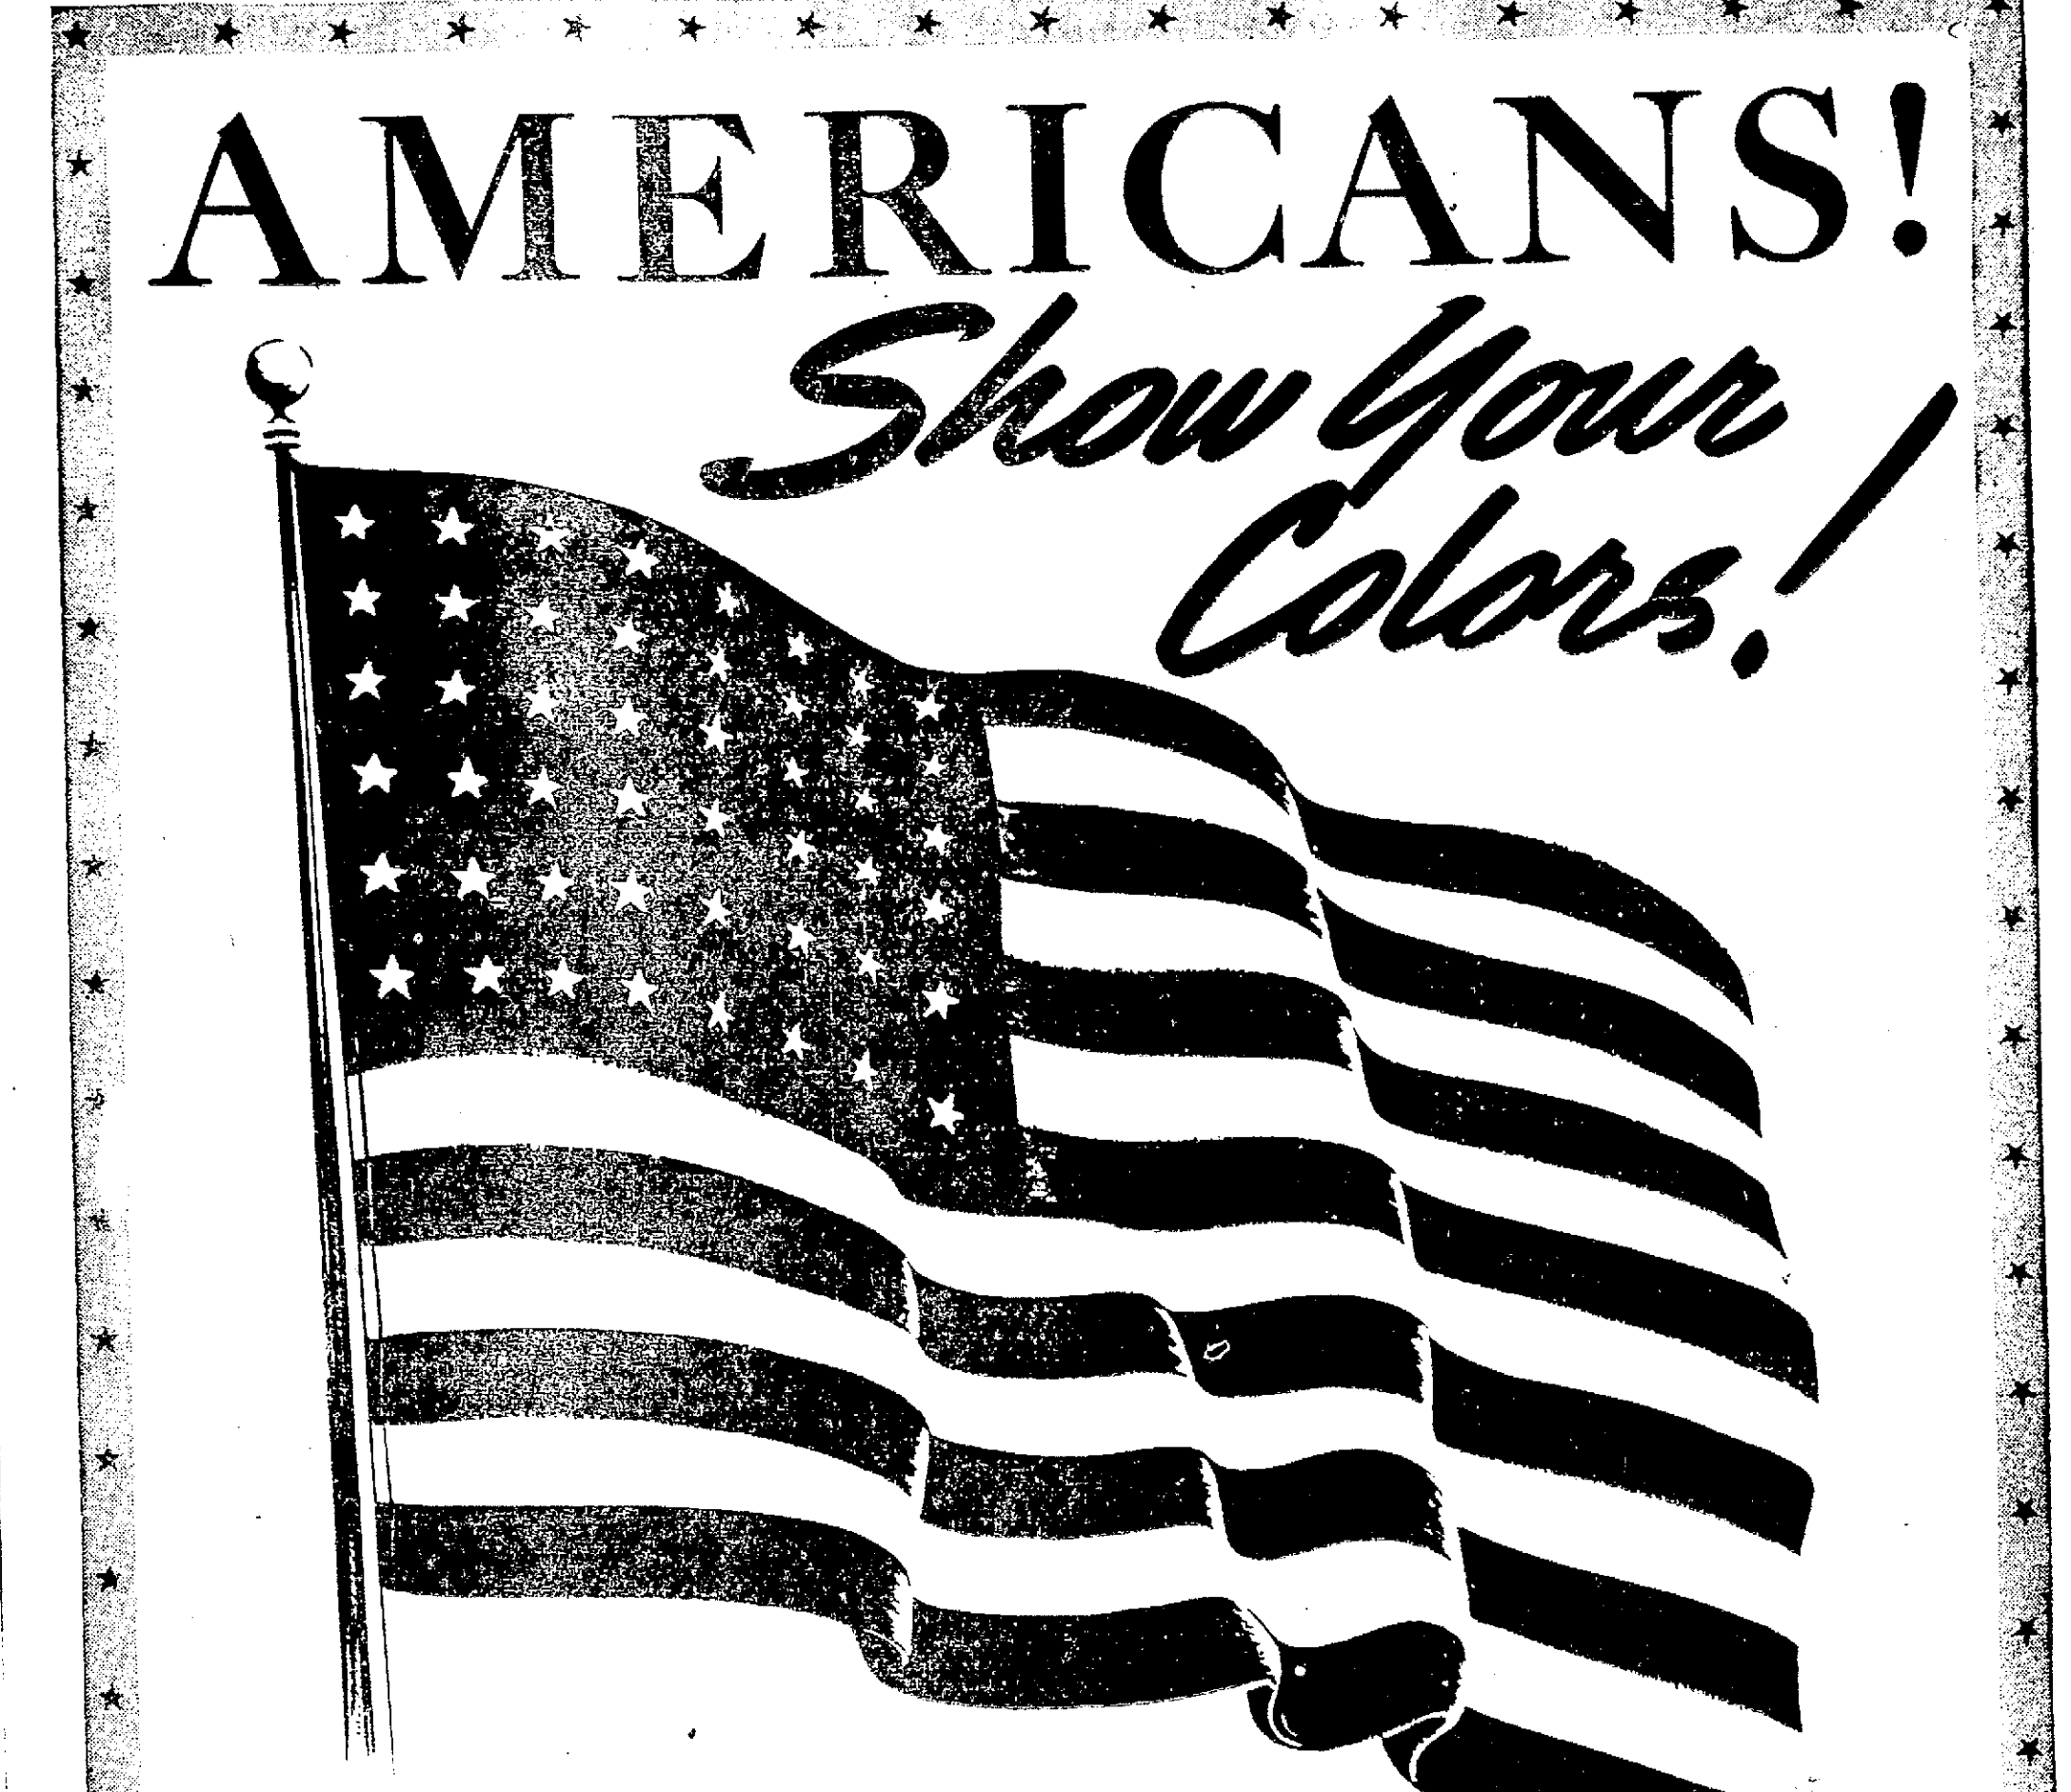

He was rounding up bundles of skis and ski sticks and rags, laughing as usual, and shouting answers to question. He yelled "Hi, Eileen!" across the room to her. "Hi, Lewis Delevan, that's Eileen Gardner. Hot coffee for the little stranger!"

She looked up at Lewis. Tall, awkwardly built without any air of awkwardness, sallow, crazy-looking, a manner of authority. Older than the rest. Deep-set unusual eyes. The way he registered in her mind she tried to place it, and did. Oh, yes. The Something Institute. Brilliant, radical young director. Courageous and forward-looking, one paper had said. Unscrupulous as to methods, another. "Our hope for a better state . . . a deliberate wreck."

Somebody who could be a formidable enemy in that rather Lewis was saying in that rather speech-sounding voice, smiling. "I'm an old friend of Martin's grandfather. He was his secretary in fact. Now I run the Willesdon Institute. I have no business to take time off for this party, but Martin gave me the S.O.S. yesterday. You and I are the surprise. The outsiders."

Juniata May Day Principals

A special dispatch today from the news bureau of Juniata College at Huntingdon announces that Miss Dorothy Albright, of Warren, has been selected as a maid of honor to the Juniata May Queen.

Miss Matilda Schwass, of North Wales, was chosen May Queen, with Robert Mitchell, of Woodland, as Prince Charming. Miss Janet Pelan, of Huntingdon, and Miss Helen Rankin, of Coraopolis, are senior attendants to the queen.

May Day will be held on May 10, with its theme an interpretation of Nathaniel Hawthorne's "May Pole of Merry Mount." A large crowd of high school and alumni visitors is expected for the full day's program, including campus tours and classroom visits for high school visitors in the morning, a variety program, and a tennis match between Elizabethtown and Juniata before the May Day pageant.

Miss Albright is an active member of Lambda Gamma, Juniata home economics club, and a member of the college Y. W. C. A. Besides being maid of honor this year, she has been an attendant in each of her former years at Juniata.

Unique Cast Situation Is Found In Current Spring Production of the St. Joseph Players

In their forthcoming spring production, "A Lady to See You," the St. Joseph Players believe they have one of the most unique plays of the current season, a play without a star, presenting ten roles of equal prominence.

John Maleno, directing his first play for the St. Joseph group, feels that he has acquired that for which every young director yearns: namely, a perfect cast. The severest critic, it is believed, will not be able to detect a loophole in this cast of characters, which has been carefully selected, each for his special ability to portray a specific characterization.

The play itself is a farce, perhaps the most humorous production to be presented from the St. Joseph's stage. In three acts of gorgeous fooling, ten of the most colorful and comical characters ever assembled on one stage enact a peppy story of a luckless hero and love-sick ladies.

The action centers around the suspicious actions of a misunderstood husband, Gerald Donovan, as portrayed by Charles Robinson, topping his most recent performance of Neil Kennedy in "Before Morning." Playing opposite him will be Wandling Hoskins as Helen, his lovable, unsuspecting wife, quite in contrast to her stirring, dramatic performance in "The Mountain." Making her debut with the St. Joseph Players, Millie Kopp will be seen as Mrs. Simpson, the nosy mother-in-law whose suspicious mind causes the many complications which follow. Miss Kopp was last seen in the Warren Players' performance of "Ah, Wilderness."

The detective of the cast is Andy Wells as played by Tom Grace, who, like the Northwest Mounted, always gets his man.

A mirthquake will rock the place when John Nicholson turns up with his fiery French bride. Playing the role of John Nicholson, the handsome veteran, will be Robert Daye, last seen in "Girl Shy," first play of this season. Nancy Salerno is superb as the little French spitfire, and her performance of Mimi will supersede even that of Charlie in "Here Comes Charlie." Hezekiah Wiglesworth, the local justice, will be in the hands of Benny Scalse. He gives a tempting characterization of a comical sheriff, who, in an effort to see that justice is done, finds love for himself. Scotty Scalse, last seen as the dean in "Girl Shy," will portray Percy Lewis, the dissatisfied secretary who, strange as it seems, turns out to be a hero.

The love-sick ladies, a pair of riotous spinsters come hunting for Nicholson and fun goes on a rampage. Adding to her list of many roles, Evelyn Armstrong gives a realistic picture of Miss Gopper. Kathleen Simmons, another experienced player, does Samantha. Together, they give a Brenda and Corbina combine that is sure to give the audience a howlingly good time.

Take the ingredients named above, shake well, and one has the picture of a man suffering the tribulations of the damned under the most comical circumstances imaginable. Things begin to hum and keep moving at a fast pace until the curtain falls. A full evening

High School Girls' Club Plans Schedule

About 60 members of the High School Girls' Club of the Y. W. C. A. attended the regular meeting held last evening at the residence building, with Patty Knapp conducting a busy session.

Following devotions in charge of Louise Koebly, several important announcements were made. The cabinet party planned for May 10 has been postponed to May 17, with Ruth Ann Slatry as general chairman of arrangements.

The next regular meeting on May 26 will take the form of a "kid" party for seniors. Florence Armstrong, Girl Reserve secretary, reminded members that reservations for the mother and daughter banquet next Monday evening, May 12, must be made no later than Friday of this week; also that dates for Camp Newatah have been set for June 15-25, with registration cards and camp pamphlets issued by banquet night.

The meeting was then turned over to Jean Erickson, who led a discussion on boy and girl relations, using the Sub-Deb page of the Ladies' Home Journal as a basis.

A special dispatch today from the news bureau of Juniata College at Huntingdon announces that Miss Dorothy Albright, of Warren, has been selected as a maid of honor to the Juniata May Day Queen.

Unique Cast Situation Is Found In Current Spring Production of the St. Joseph Players

In their forthcoming spring production, "A Lady to See You," the St. Joseph Players believe they have one of the most unique plays of the current season, a play without a star, presenting ten roles of equal prominence.

John Maleno, directing his first play for the St. Joseph group, feels that he has acquired that for which every young director yearns: namely, a perfect cast. The severest critic, it is believed, will not be able to detect a loophole in this cast of characters, which has been carefully selected, each for his special ability to portray a specific characterization.

The play itself is a farce, perhaps the most humorous production to be presented from the St. Joseph's stage. In three acts of gorgeous fooling, ten of the most colorful and comical characters ever assembled on one stage enact a peppy story of a luckless hero and love-sick ladies.

The action centers around the suspicious actions of a misunderstood husband, Gerald Donovan, as portrayed by Charles Robinson, topping his most recent performance of Neil Kennedy in "Before We'll Sing." Playing opposite him will be Wanda Hoskins as Helen, his loveable, unsuspecting wife, quite in contrast to her stirring, dramatic performance in "The Mountain." Making her debut with the St. Joseph Players, Millicent Kopp will be seen as Mrs. Simpson, the nosy mother-in-law whose suspicious mind causes the many complications which follow. Miss Kopp was last seen in the Warren Players' performance of "An. Wilderness."

A detective of the cast is Andy Wells as played by Tom Grace, who, like the Northwest Mounted, always gets his man.

A mirthquake will rock the place when John Nicholson turns up with his role of John Nicholson, the handsome veteran, will be Robert Daye, last seen in "Gill Sny" first play of this season. Nancy Salerno is superb as the little French spitfire, and her performance of Mimi will surpass even that of Charlie in "How Come Charlie." Ezekiel Wigglesworth, the local justice, will be in the hands of Benny Seale. He gives a tempting characterization of a comical sheriff, who, in an effort to see that justice is done, finds love for himself. Scotty Seale, last seen as the dean in "Gill Sny," will portray Percy Lewis, the dissatisfied secretary who, strange as it seems, turns out to be a hero.

The love-sick ladies, a pair of riotous spinsters, come hunting for Nicholson and fun goes on a rampage. Adding to her list of many roles, Evelyn Armstrong gives a realistic picture of Miss Hopper, Kathleen Simmons, another experienced player, does Samantha. Together, they give a Borgia and Cobia combine that is sure to give the audience a howlingly good time.

Take the ingredients named above, shake well, and one has the picture of a man suffering the tortures of the damned under the most comical circumstances imaginable. Things begin to hum and keep moving at a fast pace until the curtain falls. A full evening

High School Girls' Club Plans Schedule

About 60 members of the High School Girls' Club of the Y. W. C. A. attended the regular meeting held last evening at the residence building, with Patty Knapp conducting a busy session.

Following devotions in charge of Louise Koebly, several important announcements were made. The cabaret party planned for May 10 has been postponed to May 17, with Ruth Ann Slaty as general chairman of arrangements.

The next regular meeting on May 26 will take the form of a "kid" party for seniors. Florence Armstrong, Girl Reserve secretary, reminded members that reservations for the mother and daughter banquet next Monday evening, May 12, must be made no later than Friday of this week; also that dates for Camp Nevatah have been set for June 15-25, with registration cards and camp pamphlets issued by hand that night.

The meeting was then turned over to Jean Erickson, who led a discussion on boy and girl relations, using the Sub-Jeb page of the Ladies' Home Journal as a basis.

Sports Round-up

BY EDDIE BRIETZ
 New York, May 6.—Texas will have four or five native sons (all top-flighters) in next month's National Open at Fort Worth and every dime the cowboys can raise will be riding on 'em. So if you like Sam Snead, or some other alien, there's your chance, plungers. . . . Bob Pastor will be ready to go next month and a Coast shot with Turkey Thompson is in the making. . . . Larry MacPhail is a cutie in more ways than one. He called Gallahue in last year's Derby and had a century-note riding on Whirlaway Saturday. . . . All Bob Feller has to do to get an extra $1,000 on the Eddie Cantor air show tomorrow night a week is toss a no-hitter between now and then. Ken Overlin has taken $500 worth of those 8-5 odds on Billy Soose Friday night.

 O. Chicago's mad, mad Russian is a mighty sad, sad Russian. And his plight gives hearts a wrench. . . . Though a terror in the waters, he is now collecting splinters. Shding up and down the bench.

Derby Aftermath
 First reservations for the 1943 Ky. Derby have been made by a Louisville business man whose daughter will be debutating about that time and will rate a party. . . . Conn McCreary may be the stuff, but Eddie Acaro's sweet ride on the temperamental Whirlaway stamps him as the year's top jockey in this book. . . . Beg Paragon Deput. Yesterday we reported that none of the 400-odd experts in the Derby win-a-hat contest picked Starfor for second place. Well, Neil Stanley of the Santa Ana Register didn't do a thing else but. Also, he called Whirlaway to win, which gives him a one-two punch and a tie with that old Texas ranger, Bud Burmaster, who ditted for the best picking job that has come to light so far. . . . That darned Porter's

He's going to get it June 18—right in the neck." (You said it, brothers.)

Short, Short Stories
 Denver, getting back into organized baseball in the Class D Western League, has a larger population than four cities in the American Association, five in the Coast League and seven in the Texas loop. How does that add up to Watson? . . . Freddie Fitzsimmons says the Dodgers are a better club than the 1933 Giants, who won the pennant and the series. (And good old Freddie ain't a pop-off.) . . . Today Williams of the Red Sox has a gamesake on the Boston College grid squad which is causing Beantown headline writers no end of grief. . . . As S. Barnes and Co. has purchased from the American Sports Publishing Co. the right to publish and issue football guides, beginning with this year's issue. Teetotaler Clark Griffith won't perambulate with beer in his Washington park, but he doesn't object to liquor ads on the fences—if the price is right.

Add Derby Dope
 Tom O'Reilly of New York's PM is very pleased with his Derby picking record. . . . He said Porter's Cap would win by 10 lengths. The horse was fourth by ten lengths, giving Tom a batting average of .500. . . . Omigosh. Twice during his baseball career, Jimmy Gleeson of the Reds wound up with a .313 batting average. . . . And each time he figured so far. . . . That darned Porter's

DETROIT GROANS AS HANK SWAPS BAT FOR RIFLE

BY JUDSON BAILEY

Associated Press Sports Writer
 The flowers that bloom in the spring are as common in baseball as dandelions in your front lawn—and they usually wither faster. That's why few people get excited at spectacular showings in the early season.

But a sneaking suspicion is getting around that the St. Louis Cardinals and Cleveland Indians, the two hottest numbers in the big leagues, are riding in their right grooves at the head of the pack. The Indians won their 11th consecutive game yesterday, 2-1, from the Washington Senators with Bob Feller pitching three-hit ball, striking out a dozen batters and walking seven.

The Cardinals notched their 10th in a row at Boston with a 5-1 shellacking of the Braves behind the five-hit hurling of Ernie White, the 24-year-old southpaw from Paoli, S. C., who led the American Association last season in both percentage of victories and earned runs.

These streaks can't go on forever, of course, and it even may be doubtful that either will remain in first place uninterrupted, but in the short span since the season opened they have shown that they are going to be mighty tough to break.

Feller's victory yesterday was his fifth since losing to the Chicago White Sox on opening day. The Cardinals coasted to their triumph as White held the Braves scoreless until Maxie West delivered a pinch-homer in the eighth while his teammates banged two Boston pitchers for 11 safeties, including a two-run homer by Enos Slaughter.

The New York Yankees lost their fourth game out of seven western engagements by a 7-3 tune at Detroit. Two veterans, Tommy Bridges and Lefty Gomez, took the mound opposite each other and Bridges walked off last—with a six-hitter to his credit.

Lester McCrabb, a "control" pitcher who had an unimpressive record of 10 wins and 11 losses last season at Toronto in the International League, scored his second success in three decisions for the Athletics at Chicago by scattering 12 hits over 11 innings and batting in the winning run for a 5-4 verdict and dropped the White Sox into a tie with Detroit for third in the American League.

Rain washed out all the other scheduled games.

DICKINSON HURLER GOES TO RED SOX

Cathie, Pa. May 6 (P).—Baltimore Keating brilliant Dickinson College pitcher from Woodbridge, N. J. will join the Boston Red Sox immediately after graduation June 9. The big right-hander boasts a college record of 19 triumphs and seven setbacks. He is unbeaten in four games this season. Everybody reads the Times-Mirror against White Sox

Hank Greenberg, Detroit's famous home run hitting outfielder, voted most valuable American League player in 1940, waves farewell to baseball for year.

SPORT SCATTERINGS

James Emory Fox agrees with Connie Mack that the Yankees and Joe Gordon would be better off had the club left the flashy Oregonian at second base instead of switching him to first to make room for Gerald Priddy.

Even if Geny Priddy comes on, lives up to advance notices the New Yorks will suffer for the want of a consistent heavy hitter at first base, Jimmy Fox insists.

"There is no sense in turning one of the two best second basemen in baseball into an average first baseman," points out the Red Sox slugger, "and that's all Gordon will ever be after he masters the position, where right now he looks unhappy."

"Gordon, a 285 hitter at best, simply doesn't hit the ball hard and squarely often enough to be a howling success at first base."

"First base is the one position where the occupant must whom the pill."

"Look at all the stars of the past—George Sisler, Bill Terry, Lou Gehrig, Hank Greenberg. . . . They could all pick the pellet."

"When you get one who can field like Sisler could, so much the better."

Fox is surprised that the Yankees didn't make a deal for Priddy. Walter O. Briggs, the Detroit owner, made a substantial offer for the Yankees' Kansas City franchise with the stipulation that Shortstop Phil Rizzuto and Priddy be included.

Badly in need of a second sacker due to peerless Charley Gehringer fading, Briggs undoubtedly would have closed the deal had the Yankees agreed to part with only Priddy.

Briggs might even have given the Yankees York had not Hank Greenberg been called in the draft.

He would have, and still will, pay handsomely for Priddy in a straight purchase.

Fox says Babe Dahlgren wasn't nearly as bad as he was painted in some quarters. . . . suspects the Yankees would be more formidable had he been retained.

That at least would have left Joe Gordon free to ramble where he belongs.

You said it. . . . It is reported that trout fishermen would do well to ignore streams already fished by Doc Uley, State Hospital medico who has the magic touch with a net and fly and snakes out the best of the brookies and bowties. . . . Women whatever became of that mess of trout that Officer Mumm was to lax on this desk. . . . The United States Golf Association yesterday filed Interlachen Country Club as the site for the 1942 Open. . . . Thing—begin to move in the local golf world Thursday with the holding of the opening men golfers' dinner.

Local sports fans have then last chance to see Kane's Big Bill Hillman in action at the triangular track meet here next Saturday. . . . We're afraid Bradford and Warren runner may see Hillman only from behind. . . . Big Bill already holds the Beatty Field in the century and 220. . . . And has the 220 hurdle record of 26.3. . . . Mike Cannavino, well-known Erieite who was toying with the idea of putting a team into organized baseball for Warren last year, has put a sandlot outfit into Meadville. . . . Only one sports writer out of the hundreds who entered Frank Menke's contest picked Whirlaway and Starlet first and second in the Derby, although about half of them chose Whirlaway to come in first. . . . Fred Haney of the St. Louis Browns says they never was a smoother working second base combination than Priddy and Rizzuto except Tucker and Evans. . . . Wonder what the tennis players are going to do about inter-city and county competition this year.

LOCAL BOWLERS ROLL IN UTICA CASEY TOURNEY

Over a score of Warren Knights of Columbus bowlers were in Utica, N. Y. Saturday and Sunday, where they participated in the National K. of C. tournament.

Team scores of the local representatives were low, but the Lions came through with 2445 to lead the flock.

Orlone hit a 258 game to give him a total of 563 pins in the singles, but he was edged by John Praud by one pin. Praud had two games of 200 and then dropped to 169 in his third. Four pins behind the singles leader was Coppola with 365.

RICH IN MONEY, POOR IN HEALTH

BY PAUL BRAUNSCHWEIGER of The Mullen Drug Co.

Many a man has enough of this world's goods, but too little of the priceless commodity of good health.

Putting the matter in plain words, a man is composed of what he eats. Elements pass into his system chiefly through the simple everyday process of eating three meals a day.

A satisfying meal is not always satisfying to the human system. Vitamins, the chemical regulators of the body, may not be present in the correct proportions.

A trained doctor can detect this vitamin deficiency and advise how to correct the condition, through an improved diet, or by adding to the diet the important vitamins available in tablet, powder or liquid form.

Purchase such supplies only from a reputable druggist.

Theron Reed, of Erie, had a narrow escape from possible death Sunday when a truck he was driving carrying 221 cases of dynamite, weighing about 11,000 pounds, overturned near North East. It is interesting to note that two charter members of the class, Ed Beck and Freeman Knopf, are still active. Harold Hampton is the teacher and class officers are: President, F. P. McCullough; vice president, M. R. Overturf; secretary, L. C. Stickle; treasurer, Roger Olson.

YOUR NATION'S CAPITOL

The catch here, of course, is that there are no purely Portuguese companies with sufficient resources of either capital, equipment or experience to operate air-lanes into the United States. Such companies must therefore be dummy Portuguese corporations like Iberia, Aero Portuguesa and Servicos Aereos Portuguesas, with Italian, French and German control.

If reciprocal rights were granted these companies to fly, trip for trip across the Atlantic with American clippers, the United States would be in the strange position of granting rights for commercial planes of countries which are at war with Britain to base on the United States, observe U. S. neutrality patrols, convoys and shipping to England.

NEW INDUCTION SYSTEM GOES IN EFFECT MAY 21

The local draft boards announced today that the new system of induction into the service, being tried first in this state, will go into effect on May 21.

Under the new setup, the local physicians will continue to examine draftees as previously and will eliminate many of the physically unfit.

Those passed will go to an inspection center for their final physical examinations and, if accepted, will return to this city for a period of ten days.

They will then go to a reception center where they will be assigned to their respective divisions. This process eliminates the induction center.

First Report Meeting of Annual Community Campaign This Evening

(From Page One)

"While there has been a marked upturn in employment, particularly in the industrial division, this upturn must be reflected in the form of new subscriptions if the $41,800 goal is to be reached," Mr. Allen said.

"As pointed out previously, losses in the past year have amounted to approximately six percent," he stated. "Obviously, we must depend upon the increased employment to produce this differential."

Mr. Allen also pointed out that the individual quotas assigned in the campaign do not allow for any slackage. "The quota of each division must be reached if the goal is to be attained," he stated.

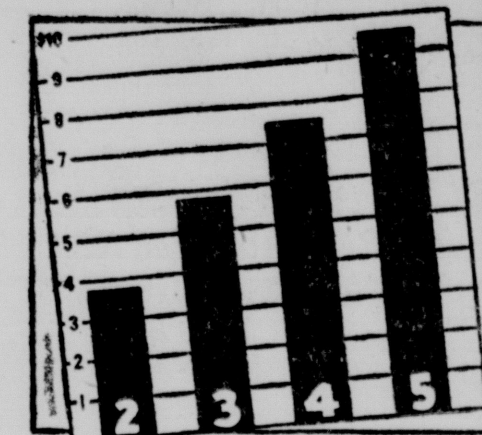

Campaign headquarters this morning urged all persons who have subscribed to the Community Chest fund this year to display the "red feathers" which are being given as an indication of participation.

A number of the red feathers have made their appearance, but there are many which are not being displayed by those entitled to wear them, it was stated.

Warren Restaurant Is Taking Part In Nationwide Program

Geracimos Co. is among the city's restaurateurs who are taking an active part in the sixth annual observance of National Restaurant Week from May 5 to 11. The event, which is sponsored by the National Restaurant Association, will take the form of a nationwide advertising campaign to emphasize the importance of "dining out" in American life and the progress made in restaurant operation. More than 50,000 restaurateurs are expected to participate in the campaign.

"The purpose of National Restaurant Week," said Miss Grace E. Smith of Toledo, president of the national organization, "is to show the tremendous advancement made by our industry. Restaurant service has become an important part of American life and is helping to emancipate the housewife from the monotonous routine of menu planning and kitchen drudgery. Restaurant Week has been purposefully timed to wind up on Mother's Day, for we trust that on this day, particularly, the mothers and wives will be relieved from kitchen cares. What better treat is there than a palatable and healthful meal, pleasingly served at a price within the means of the average pocketbook?"

"While most restaurants are small and must remain so because of the highly personalized service they render, they combine to make up a great industry. In the United States, restaurant sales are in excess of two billion dollars annually, and the industry ranks sixth among all retail trades. More than two million persons are employed in restaurants and the industry devotes a larger percentage of its income to payroll than any other retail business."

Dutch East Indies tobacco growers now are shipping most of their crop to New York.

NEW INDUCTION SYSTEM GOES IN EFFECT MAY 21

The local draft boards announced today that the new system of induction into the service, being tried first in this state, will go into effect on May 21.

Under the new setup, the local physicians will continue to examine draftees as previously and will eliminate many of the physically unfit.

Those passed will go to an inspection center for their final physical examinations and, if accepted, will return to this city for a period of ten days.

They will then go to a reception center where they will be assigned to their respective divisions. This process eliminates the induction center.

"While there has been a marked upturn in employment, particularly in the industrial division, this upturn must be reflected in the form of new subscriptions if the $41,800 goal is to be reached," Mr. Allen said.

"As pointed out previously, losses in the past year have amounted to approximately six percent," he stated. "Obviously, we must depend upon the increased employment to produce this differential."

Mr. Allen also pointed out that the individual quotas assigned in the campaign do not allow for any slackage.

The quota of each division must be reached if the goal is to be attained," he stated.

Campaign headquarters this morning urged all persons who have subscribed to the Community Chest fund this year to display the "red feathers" which are being given as an indication of participation.

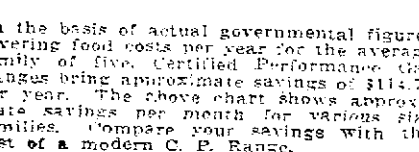

A number of the red feathers have made their appearance, but there are many which are not being displayed by those entitled to wear them, it was stated.

RICH IN MONEY, POOR IN HEALTH

By PAUL BRAUNSCHEWEIGER of The Mullen Drug Co.

Many a man has enough of this world's goods, but too little of the priceless commodity of good health.

Putting the matter in plain words, a man is composed of what he eats. Elements pass into his system chiefly through the simple everyday process of eating three meals a day.

A healthy meal is not simply satisfying to the human system. It contains the chemical ingredients of the body, may not be pleasant to the palate, but it is essential to the proper functioning of the body.

The catch here, of course, is that there are no purely Portuguese companies with sufficient resources of either capital, equipment or experience to operate air lines into the United States. If reciprocal rights were granted these companies to fly, trip for trip across the Atlantic with American clippers, the United States would be in the strange position of granting rights for commercial planes of countries which are at war with Britain to base on the United States, observe U.
